

June 15, 2015

The following was sent to the KYAE listserv.

Finish Strong UPDATE: We're getting closer!

We're getting closer ...

According to KAERS, there are at least 276 students who have already passed three GED® test modules; the majority of these students (251) have yet to pass the math module. Of the 25 students who lack one GED® module other than math, 19 (76%) have already attempted the last module, and 10 of them were within three points of passing. Of the 251 students who lack only the math module, 83 (33%) have already attempted math, and 33 of them were within three points of passing. This does not take into consideration an additional 275 students who have already passed two GED® test modules.

As of today, our state GED® total is 1,447. If these 551 students and just a couple of others earned their GED® diplomas by June 30, we will reach our 2,000 goal!

We have literally hundreds of students who are very close and capable of successfully completing their GED® testing within the next two-and-a-half weeks.

Finish Strong!!!

Cody Davidson, Ph.D.
Director of Administrative Leadership for Adult Education
Kentucky Council on Postsecondary Education
1024 Capital Center Dr., Suite 250
Frankfort, KY 40601
Office: 502-573-5114, x373
www.kyae.ky.gov